

HOOVER ON FIRST BALLOT SEEMS TO BE CERTAINTY

Republican Leadership Theme of Keynote Speech

COOLIDGE'S LEADERSHIP IS EXTOLLED

Senator Fess Declares Republicans Stand on His Record

Kansas City, Mo., June 12.—(AP)—The Coolidge leadership was emphasized on the banner waved by Simeon D. Fess, of Ohio, in delivering the keynote speech today to the Republican National Convention.

The Ohio Senator told the delegates that the nomination "would be a foregone conclusion did he not forbid," adding that Coolidge "leaves office by his own fiat, which appears to be final and is to be so interpreted by many of his friends."

Fess, one of the first to start the "draft Coolidge" movement, wound up his address with this ringing tribute to the titular leader of the party:

Tribute to Coolidge.

"This hold upon the confidence of the American people of every name, class and creed without regard to partisan feeling, makes Calvin Coolidge the greatest personal and political force in the world."

Declaring that the Republican party faced the country this year standing squarely upon the record of Coolidge, the Senator said that the President's achievement in administration "reflects a type of political leadership at the head of the government rarely experienced in this or any other country."

"Few are his words, decisive his judgments," he added. "His comprehension of problems is broad, his vision clear and his action dauntless. His conception of public duty forestalls the employment of mere political expediency."

For Farm Relief.

As to the all-important question of farm relief, which has become a dominant issue in the campaign, the Ohio Senator said no one should be in doubt of the purpose of the party "to give this greatest of industries every consideration short of unsound proposals of government stimulation or artificial remedies which in the end may only add to our problems."

There was no specific mention of the McNary-Haagen farm relief bill which Mr. Coolidge has twice vetoed and about which has centered the stubborn battle over the agricultural question.

The Ohio Senator declared that the administration had enacted no less than twenty-four separate pieces of legislation covering every phase of the agricultural problem. The government also should aid the farmer, he said, "in insuring an adequate marketing system where it can be done as an industry in the hands of its members rather than as a government function."

Two Ways of Helping.

He asserted that the Republican policy of a protective tariff and the development of transportation facilities, especially inland waterways, constituted two important methods of assistance to the farmer.

"Whatever aid the government may give," he continued, "the remedy lies most largely with the farmer himself, acting in unison with his associates to control his products. It is a matter of management rather than legal enactment, save in constructive legislation enabling the farmer to better handle his products, to better determine a market."

The Ohio Senator pitched his speech to the theme of Republican leadership throughout. Under that leadership, he said, the American people had reached "a financial position never before reached by any people in the history of the world."

Longest Prosperity.

"Today we are in the longest period of sustained business prosperity in our history," he declared. "To continue it free from the cycle of business depression is the prime concern of leadership in industry."

While not specifically naming the prohibition law, the Ohio Senator said his party was ready "to call the roll" on "false doctrine masquerading under the mask of Liberty."

The "principle of human conservation" must be advanced, he declared. "It is not a question of tolerance or liberty, but of life, both individual and national. The Re-

FEDERAL JUDGE ADAM CLIFFE DIED THIS MORNING AT HOME IN SYCAMORE; FUNERAL FRIDAY

Well Known Jurist's Illness of Half a Year Ended

Federal Judge Adam C. Cliffe of the Northern District of Illinois, who is well known throughout this part of the state, died at his home in Sycamore this morning, after an illness of six months' duration. Judge Cliffe had many friends in Dixon and Lee county who will mourn his passing.

It is understood the funeral will be held at his home in Sycamore Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock and that burial will take place in Franklin Grove, Mrs. Cliffe's former home.

For several months Judge Cliffe's health had been failing, but his condition was not regarded as dangerous until Saturday when he suffered hemorrhages, death occurred at 7 o'clock this morning.

The jurist is survived by his widow and three children, Thomas C., Edna Mary and Evaline. He left also three brothers, Daniel W., Thomas M. and Daniel C., all living at Sycamore, a sister, Mrs. Helen L. Quinn, lives at Clare, Ill.

His death at the age of 59 ended a career that had brought him into prominence in Republican politics and in both state and federal judicial circles.

Judge Cliffe, long a staunch partisan of the Lowden and McCormick forces in Illinois Republicanism, was appointed to the DeKalb County Circuit bench in 1920 by Gov. Frank O. Lowden. During the same year he was an active campaigner for his party ticket and his reward came in 1923 with appointment by President Harding to be United States District Judge for Northern Illinois.

Automobile Burns on Mt. Union Hill

A Hudson coach bearing California license plates and said to belong to Mr. Welter, brother of the former sheriff of LaSalle county, was burned about 10:30 last night on the Mt. Union hill on state highway route 2 east of the city. The car, which was being driven north toward Grand Detour, apparently swerved suddenly and ran into a 20-foot ditch, crashing through a new wire fence and burst into flames.

Two men occupied the car, one of whom is said to have jumped and sustained an injury to his back. The driver remained in the car until it stopped. Several gathered about the scene but were driven away when the gasoline tank exploded. A passing car brought both men to Dixon, neither of whom was seriously injured.

Hellener Resigns as Secretary C. C.

Announcement was made this morning of the resignation of Henry W. Hellener as secretary of the Dixon Chamber of Commerce, a position which he has held with much credit for the past few years. The resignation is effective at the close of business June 9, it was stated. The board of directors of the Chamber applications of a number of efficient candidates and the selection of a successor is expected within a few days.

MAIL SERVICE IS CURTAILED UNDER NEW DEPT. ORDER

No Service from West Between 7:00 A. M. and 4:00 P. M.

An order curtailing the mail service here is expected to meet with a loud protest from the mercantile and industrial interests.

Announcement is made that, effective June 17, the mail pouch received on train No. 26 from the west at 1:13 p. m. will be discontinued and no outgoing mail will be accepted on this train, except that going to Chicago or that sent for delivery by air mail.

This means that no mail will be received here from the west between 7 o'clock in the morning and 4:00 in the afternoon and likewise means that no mail can be sent out for eastern destinations between that interval.

It is understood that it is the plan to take the mail clerks off of the 1:13 p. m. Chicago & Northwestern passenger.

In Morrison the business interests are planning to make a complaint against the proposed change. It is likely that the Chamber of Commerce of Morrison and the civic clubs of that city will also enter a formal protest.

Leon Hart, C. E. Yale of Amboy, Anson Rosekrans, president of the Farm Bureau of Paw Paw and Earl Buck of Franklin Grove left Monday morning for Kansas City to attend the convention.

While Her Rival in "Friendship" Gets Ready to "Jump"

Trepassey, N. F., June 12.—(AP)—The monoplane Friendship made three unsuccessful attempts to rise from the water of Trepassey harbor today and take off for Europe. Weather conditions were favorable with a strong west wind, and it appeared that the six ton load was too heavy to be lifted.

Immensity of Plant on Byron Farm is Hardly Believable

Ogle county officials today were of the belief that the huge alcohol distillery discovered late Saturday night across the Rock river from the McCormick Rock River farms, is but one of several owned and controlled by a well organized Rockford syndicate. Trucks continued to operate between the plant and the Ogle county jail throughout yesterday removing the equipment, which is valued at more than $20,000. While this work was under way hundreds of persons visited the county jail and the farm.

Sheriff Sam Good was short of storage space for the immense plant and equipment and several truck loads of vats, boilers, cooling tanks, copper coils and other equipment was being unloaded in the jail grounds because of the lack of storage space. Deputies were on guard at the farm.

Evasion of Jury Service Condemned

Evasion of jury service does not signify pride, Judge William L. Leech told members of the Dixon Kiwanis club this noon in a very interesting talk in which the speaker gave facts which also proved to be educational. The method of the operation of the county court, the rapidly increasing amount of business and many other interesting facts were quoted in his brief talk.

Judge Leech told the Kiwanians that approximately $15,000 has been paid into the county treasury of Lee county during the past several months in fines and costs, a figure with which but a very few of the county's residents are acquainted. He stressed civic pride as the prime factor in the growth and development of a community and in this connection, stated that those who make excuses and seek to evade service as prospective jurors in the courts of the county, to do their part toward the enforcement of the laws, lack civic pride.

The board at this morning's session heard the reading of reports of the road and bridge committee, the board of directors of the Lee County Tuberculosis Sanatorium, the Coroner and several communications. The delegates from the board to the annual convention of Supervisors, County Clerks and Probate Clerks, to be held at Moline in August.

DEATH OF CHANG, MANCHURIAN WAR LORD, CONFIRMED

Injuries Received in Train Bombing on June 4 Fatal

Tokyo, June 12.—(AP)—The Japanese War Office today received word of the death of Chang Tso-Lin, Manchurian war lord and former Northern Dictator, who was the victim of a bomb at Mukden after his abdication.

The bomb outrage occurred as the trains bearing Chang and members of his staff from Peking entered the suburbs of Mukden on June 4. Several members of his staff were killed, including Wu Chun-Sheng, military governor of the province of Heilungkiang.

Chang was at first reported slightly injured. As rumors spread, however, that news of his death was being kept secret pending the arrival of his eldest son, the Japanese War Minister on June 6 said that Chang was alive but in a serious condition, since that time he has been reported to be in a comatose state.

Chang withdrew from Peking on June 3 after a rule of nearly two years as dictator of northern China when his troops failed to halt the drive of the southern (Nationalist) troops toward the northern capital.

RUSH TO BAND WAGON STARTS THIS MORNING

Sec. Mellon Delivers Pennsylvania's Big Delegation Today

BULLETIN
Kansas City, June 12.—(AP)—The first session of the Republican National Convention ended at 1:07 p. m. today after being in session exactly two hours and 4 minutes.

BULLETIN

Kansas City, June 12.—(AP)—Informed that Andrew W. Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury, and William M. Butler, National Chairman, had thrown their support to Herbert Hoover for the presidential nomination, Senator James E. Watson of Indiana urged that other candidates unite on a man to whom they could throw a "protest vote."

"It is all off," senator Watson declared, just before conferring with leaders who had been fighting the nomination of Hoover. Backers of Frank Lowden, Senator Charles Curtis and Senator Guy Goff, however, did not appear to lend a sympathetic ear to Senator Watson's suggestion that they united on one candidate.

Convention Hall, Kansas City, Mo., June 12.—(AP)—Convinced that Coolidge won't run again the Republican National Convention assembled today in Convention Hall ready to nominate Hoover and go home as quickly as the formalities will permit.

Only the final completion of a new platform plank, and decision who will be the nominee for Vice President—a decision to be made largely by Hoover himself—remained in dispute when Chairman Butler of the Republican National Committee rapped for order at three minutes after 11 o'clock.

Out in front from the start, the movement for Hoover had become a real band wagon parade in the last few minutes before the convention began. In turn, Pennsylvania, Idaho and Vermont, and such individual holdouts as Secretary Mellon and Chairman Butler himself went over into the swelling camp of the majority. There remained no doubt of a nomination on the first ballot barring only a bombshell explosion of almost unprecedented proportions.

Ballot Thursday

It will be Thursday before the balloting can begin, but the Hoover men who are handling the levers of the party organization expect to be on their way home by Thursday night. Today the convention only went through the motions of getting itself organized, hearing the keynote speech by Senator Fess of Ohio, appointing the committees which are to draw up a platform and smooth out details of the convention organization, and joining with Mme. Schumann-Heink in singing the National Anthem.

There will be no afternoon session. Hoover's nomination, apparently on the first ballot, was assured today when the Pennsylvania delegation, holding the balance of power, voted unanimously to follow the suggestion of Secretary Mellon that they vote for Hoover on the first ballot.

Decision Unanimous

The decision of the delegation came after Mr. Mellon in low tones had read a brief statement in which he said that since it was clear that President Coolidge would not accept the nomination he suggested to his colleagues that they vote for Hoover on the first ballot because he believed the Commerce Secretary would have the wholesale approval of the nation.

Dawes For Second Place
Vice-President Dawes' prospects for renomination are high today when Secretary Mellon said he was the "logical candidate."

A meeting of the Pennsylvania delegation will be called soon, he said, to consider their stand on the Vice-Presidential nomination.

"I have not decided yet how I will stand on the vice-presidency but Dawes is the logical candidate now," he added.

Leaders here believe that Dawes will accept the nomination, as Ed. Clifford of Evanston, Ill., the Vice-President's home town, has set up a Dawes office here and is going until all of the equipment had been removed.

The immensity of the plant could be realized only after an inspection of the inside of the old farm house, which is located at the end of a road and on the banks of Rock river in a thick forest of timber. In this secluded spot the force of Rockford Italians carried on an extensive alcohol manufacturing business and from all appearances had met with such success that it was necessary to double the capacity of the plant and work day and night forces. The interior of the old farm house dwelling was practically torn out to make way for the huge stills and equipment used in the manufacture of the cheap grade of alcohol. All of the material used in extending the size of the plant was hauled from Rockford under cover of darkness, and it is estimated that the alcohol manufacturing activities have been under way since last April.

Two Cement Vats.

An Evening Telegraph representative visited the farm last evening with Sheriff Sam Good as the last of the equipment was hauled away. Two huge cement vats had been constructed in the basement of the house, work on one of these having been completed very recently. The first vat had been built early in the spring and practically filled the limited basement space under the house. Another cellar was excavated under another part of the house and a second vat built of cement. The dirt had been removed with great care and no trace of the dumping place could be located. Sand and gravel for the cement vat had been hauled from Rockford in sugar sacks, and much of this building material was on hand, indicating that further building operations were planned for the very near future.

Floors had been torn and sawed away to make room for the stacks and equipment. But one room of the big house was used by the employees as a living room and this was the kitchen. Bunks and kitchen utensils indicated that this was their only room for rest. Other rooms on the second floor were piled to the ceiling with one and five gallon tin cans and empty corn sugar sacks which formed the base for the mash.

Two Entrances to House.

Two gravel roads leading from the old Stillman Valley road provided entrances to the lane, about a mile and one-half in length which comes to an abrupt halt at the farm. Corn sugar in 100 pound sacks and large quantities of yeast are said to have been hauled in trucks from Rockford to the plant, where it was converted into alcohol of a very cheap grade. The product of the entire plant was said to have been hauled direct to Rockford where it was disposed of. A truck heavily loaded left the farm shortly before the raiding party arrived Saturday night, it is said.

A sewer system leading from the basement of the house to the river had been constructed several feet under the ground during the early spring. Near the house, out had been dug to cover up the excavations and along the river bank, brush had been thrown over the covered ditch. Every precaution was taken to throw off any suspicion from the outside. Coke was burned in the heating plant in order that smoke would not be observed coming from the chimneys of the house. A well near the house had been tapped and water pumped to cool the big copper coils. The well had then been carefully covered over with cement.

Farm Was Not Used.

Out side of the house there was no apparent activity. The barn and outbuilding were unused and no crop was planted. A few hogs running about the house and yard were the only evidences of farming.

Sheriff Good is of the opinion that his raiding party arrived Saturday night about the same time that the cashier came out from Rockford to pay off the force of Italians who were operating the plant. The raid was well under way when an Auburn sedan drove into the barn yard and turned around. Four officers ordered the driver to stop and leave the car. As they did so, the driver stepped on the gas and drove down the long, narrow lane skirting Rock river at a terrific rate of speed as the four officers emptied their revolvers in his direction.

THOUGHT NEVER TO SEE A WELL DAY EVER AGAIN

Knee So Swollen With Rheumatism Couldn't Bend It; New Gly-Cas Amazing.

Not only in Dixon, but in Rochelle, Franklin Grove, Polo, Ashton, Amboy, Compton and other surrounding towns and on rural routes, men and women, in large numbers are taking this surprising new vegetable Gly-Cas preparation and getting remarkable and in many cases unhopel for relief from stomach liver bowel, blood, nerve troubles, awful neuritis, rheumatism. For instance, just a few days ago, while talking with the Gly-Cas Man who is at the Campbell White Cross Pharmacy, Dixon, Mr. Fred Albrecht, well-known man living on R. R. No. 3, Ohio, Ill., near Dixon, said:

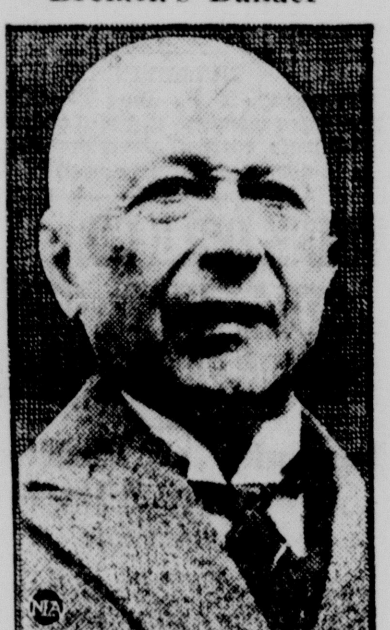

"There is nothing to even compare with your Gly-Cas for the prompt relief of rheumatism, and I tell you, it is remarkable what this medicine will do for a system that is all run-down."

For two months I was practically down and out with agonizing rheumatism which had settled in my arms, shoulders, hips and knees," continued Mr. Albrecht. "Sharp, piercing, intense pains would strike me between the shoulders and extend down into my sides. My right knee was actually so swollen and sore that I could not bend it at all. From all this rheumatic misery my system had become run down and with medicines and treatments failing to reach my case I just thought I would never see a well day again."

"However, this was before a neighbor, who knew of my suffering, told me about your Gly-Cas. To my surprise, after I started using Gly-Cas I soon realized that here was a preparation entirely superior to all the other medicines as it really eliminates all disorders and thoroughly cleanses the system of impurities. It is the truth that several boxes of Gly-Cas have made me as well as ever. I am practically free from that rheumatism now. It is just remarkable what Gly-Cas will do in banishing rheumatism and also what this medicine will do for a system that is all run-down."

The Gly-Cas Man is at the Campbell's White Cross Pharmacy, Dixon, and is daily meeting the public and explaining this surprising new vegetable Gly-Cas. Daring Girl Flyer Looks Like Lindy

Miss Amelia Earhart, who may be the first woman flyer to cross the Atlantic, looks enough like Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh to be his twin sister, judging from her latest picture, above. Miss Earhart, Boston society girl and social worker, has been flying since 1918 and was the first woman to be granted a flyer's license by the National Aeronautics Society. The picture shows her remarkable facial resemblance to Lindy, who is shown in the inset. Like him, too, she is built physically on slender lines.

COOLIDGE'S LEADERSHIP IS EXTOLLED

publican party . . . is ready to sound the moral tocsin against the present campaign of a noise-making minority whether in the interest of business profits of mere human indulgence. It stands for respect for law. It condemns the violation of law. Its prosecutions are without respect to rank or party and are conducted by the judicial branch of the government."

"While moral delinquencies are to be found in all political parties, in fact among all classes, and while they sometimes reach places of influence, the general rule is a high type of character in our public service, and never more so than at the present time."

The latter part of this phase of the address was the only statement which might be taken as a reference to the oil leasing cases.

Achievements Praised.

The Republican party's achievements and policies were praised by the keynoter as having increased the wealth of the nation from $20,000,000,000 to $400,000,000,000 "with a more general distribution of that wealth permitting the highest standards of living ever reached, where the average citizen of this country enjoys more comforts than did the kings of earth two hundred years ago."

Under Republican leadership, he said, the nation had adhered to its foreign policy to the declarations laid down by Washington in his farewell address and to the Monroe Doctrine. It was unwilling to "pay the price of surrender of national sovereignty" to participate in the League of Nations, he declared.

Referring to the recent proposal of Mr. Coolidge for a multilateral treaty for the renunciation of war, Mr. Fess said the nation had taken the leadership in promoting peace.

Foreign Relations.

In the relations of the United States with Central American countries, he told the convention the Republican administration "shows a new standard of cosmopolitan philanthropy never before aspired to by any nation of history." When the facts are compiled an America's efforts to promote stable government among the struggling people, he added, "it will reveal aspiration upon our part and realization upon theirs which will challenge the admiration of the world."

"The reduction of taxation and the public debt under the Coolidge administration was described as an accomplishment 'not the result of accident but rather of management' through the observance of rigid economy in government bringing about the diminution of the debt at a rate of nearly a billion dollars a year."

Fess referred to the Department of Commerce which is headed by Secretary Hoover, a candidate for the Presidential nomination, as promoting house building through the better homes movement, "an example of prosperity."

through the same maneuvers that he adopted at Cleveland where he had charge of Dawes campaign.

Would Balance Ticket

Dawes, his friends believe, will solidify urban and agricultural republicanism and will balance the Hoover ticket. It is pointed out that Dawes got down off the vice-presidential rostrum while the McNary-Haugen bill was under consideration in the Senate and aided in piloting that measure through when it was first passed at session before last.

Lowden Manager Fights

Although convinced that the decision of the Pennsylvania delegation to go to Hoover on the first ballot means the nomination of the cabinet member, Clarence F. Buck, Lowden manager, announced today that the fight for his man would go on.

"We know this seems to mean the nomination of Hoover but our fight is one for equality for agriculture and we will redouble our efforts to have the party declare in favor of the principles of the McNary-Haugen bill," Buck said.

Lowden himself had no comment to make except that the Pennsylvania decision would not make any change in his position.

MENU for the FAMILY

BY SISTER MARY.
BREAKFAST—Rhubarb sauce, cereal cooked with raisins, cream, crisp whole wheat toast, eggs cooked in the shell, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Shrimp jambolaya, hearts of lettuce with French dressing, sugared fresh pineapple, milk, tea.

DINNER—Filets of halibut with cheese sauce, new potatoes in parsley butter, beet greens, lemon, milk, coffee.

Shrimp jambolaya is a Creole dish, delicious and intriguing. Many of the most popular and expensive restaurants specialize in dishes "a la Creole." However, any housekeeper, if she will learn some of the tricks of seasoning that have been brought to us from other countries, can add variety and unusual palatability to her family table.

Shrimp Jambolaya.
Two medium sized white onions, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 3 tomatoes, 1/2 cup washed rice, 2 tablespoons minced parsley, half a clove of garlic, 1/2 teaspoon chili powder, 4 cups boiling water, 1 1/2 cups boiled shrimps.

Fresh or canned fish can be used, but in any event be sure the tiny dark vein through the center is removed. Melt butter, add onions peeled and minced and left cook slowly until quite brown. Sift over flour and stir until thoroughly blended. Stir and cook until flour browns. Scald tomatoes, plunge into cold water and slip off skins. Chop finely and add to onion mixture. At the same time add rice, parsley, garlic, bay leaf and chili powder and boiling water. Let cook slowly about an hour until rice is tender and the mixture is thick. Add shrimps and heat very hot. Season with salt and pepper and serve.

The fine powder so often used in Creole dishes is finely powdered saffron leaves. It imparts a peculiar pungency and flavor.

Bridge Made Easy

1—INITIAL SUIT BIDS
The cards have been dealt. As you study them, you often ask yourself, "Shall I bid?" Uncertain as to what to do, you find yourself in a maze.

There need be no such hesitancy. If you have a bid, it can be detected immediately by a cursory inspection of cards, determining at once whether the hand contains the minimum requirements for an initial bid.

An initial bid is a bid made by the player who has the first hand. He also may be denominated the first hand. If the first hand passes and the second hand bids, this bid by second hand is also termed an initial bid. This article is confined to initial bidding, as the requirements for bids in other positions are different.

If the cards were evenly dealt and every player held the A K Q of a suit he would hold 2 1/2 quick tricks, making a total of ten quick tricks for all four hands. Such an equal distribution of cards is not likely to occur in a century. To find ten quick tricks outstanding in any one deal is so unusual as to require no further consideration.

The average number of quick tricks outstanding in every deal is not more than eight and usually less than eight. You may verify this conclusion by dealing the cards ten times, counting the number of quick tricks and noting the results. It will thus be seen that, on the average, a total of less than eight tricks is held by all the players in each deal.

It therefore follows that the initial bidder holding two quick tricks has a hand above the average.

Two quick tricks is the minimum bidding requirement for any initial bid. If your hand does not contain at least two quick tricks, it must not be bid initially.

The initial bid is the pivot of all bidding. It must be as sound as the Rock of Gibraltar. Your initial bid is a mirror to your partner. It is a proclamation that you have the minimum requirements for an initial bid, namely, two quick tricks. However, an initial suit bid never should be made on less than four cards even though you hold A K Q of the suit.

The WOMAN'S DAY by ALLENE SUMNER

Even in this modern day it sounds like a page from some wild tale of fantasy. A plane with pilot and passenger is soaring above the clouds. The passenger attacks the pilot with a hammer. The pilot regains consciousness just as the plane is nose-diving towards the ground. He clutches the controls and manages to save their lives, though the plane was totally wrecked.

Told 20 or less years ago this story would have gone in the Baron Munchausen or Gulliver's Travels class. The very fact that it was really true a few days ago can only make us wonder what next!

WHAT OF IT?

That the wives and daughters of the tailor, butcher and ditch digger aim, think, act and look like millionaires' wives and daughters is the serious charge of Dr. Henry I. Adler, well-known psychiatrist. To which I can think of no better answer than "what of it?" His peeve reminds me of the late society dame who complained that with everybody wearing silk stockings nowadays, how could you tell who was society and who was of the mere common herd?

CHILDISH COURAGE

A hymn sung by 200 children stopped a panic in a Philadelphia church the other Sunday. The flames were licking the altar cloths and the procession of child songsters was coming up the aisle when the panic started. As the children continued their marching and singing, however, the 500 adults sat down again while volunteer firemen from the congregation fought the blaze.

The biggest job in child training, and one which, to date, the "newer" child psychology has not solved, is that of preserving instinctive childish calm and assurance. Perhaps the very price of growing older and learning is the loss or courage as one knows that there are things which must be feared. It is ignorance that explains childish courage.

"BAD GIRL"

"Bad Girl," the story of Eddie and Dot who merely duplicate hundreds of thousands of young Americans in their struggles of courtship, romance, marriage and baby raising, certainly needs no better advertising than the refusal of Boston to sell it. But even so, I can't resist making a face at Boston and wondering what in the world's matter with any old lady of a city who can find anything offensive in that book. To be sure, a baby is born, and to be sure the readers know all about the probabilities of that baby's arrival for some dozen pages before he makes his bow. But—can't we even yet face birth without smirks and leers and cries of "offensive?"

Women's Activities At The Convention

BY MARY BAINBRIDGE HAYDEN (Associated Press Staff Writer)

Kansas City, June 12—(AP)—The bright bunting in the canyons of Kansas City's downtown streets were put to shame today by the bright wardrobes of women delegates, women spectators and women hostesses, as they swung into action on the last lap of their preparations for the opening of the convention today.

As if in an effort to make up for their decrease in official representation, women have thronged the national committee headquarters and the headquarters of both the leading candidates, while women's organizations with planks to push are grooming ten or a dozen speakers for the resolutions committee tomorrow, and women's organizations without planks have representatives backing those they approve.

Senator Borah's name is being played as a trump card in the women's fight for a prohibition plank. The law enforcement plank has been dubbed "absurd" by women of the opposition, headed by Miss M. Louise Gross, president of the national woman's volunteer committee of the association against the prohibition amendment.

Representatives of the general federation of women's clubs, including Mrs. John D. Sherman, former president; Mrs. Robert Burdette, of California, vice president, and Mrs. George White Speel, new national committee woman from the district of Columbia, have arrived, but will take no official action for the federation in favor of any planks, although they approve of the adoption of an enforcement plank.

Senator Borah's name also is mentioned at the league of women voters headquarters, in connection with his proposed plank favoring a multi-lateral treaty renouncing war. This, it is argued, is in line with the League of Nations international cooperation plank.

Three Republican women will appear before the resolutions committee tomorrow. Mrs. Jas. W. Morrison of Chicago; Mrs. George Gellhorn of St. Louis, and Mrs. Herbert Knox Smith of Farmington, Conn. whose husband was a member of Roosevelt's "tennis cabinet."

Another plank, for a deep sea channel to the Great Lakes, is supported by the only woman member of the committee favoring the channel, Mrs. C. N. Erwin of St. Paul, who arrived yesterday.

"Lowden women" were active under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, candidate for Congress woman from Illinois, who is directing the publicity for the former governor. Some 500 Kansas City women went officially on duty today as hostesses of the convention. Society's leaders went on four hour shifts in every hotel, club house and convention headquarters.

U. of I. Five Graduates From Lee County

Practically every county in the state is represented in the list of candidates for degrees from the University of Illinois to be granted at the commencement exercises this year. The list includes five from Lee County.

Approximately 2,000 degrees, many of them graduate and professional awards, is the total of this period. Some 300 of them were conferred at the commencement exercises for the College of Medicine, College of Dentistry, and the School of Pharmacy, all located at Chicago, at the exercises held in that city Saturday morning, June 9. The remainder, or approximately 1,700 will be conferred at the fifty-seventh annual commencement for the Urbana-Champaign departments on Wednesday morning, June 13.

Boys and girls who have worked all or part of their way through the University, including many who have received not a cent of outside help, together with the large numbers of sons and daughters of the "middle classes," and here and there the child of a millionaire, have all followed the same academic procedure with no favors extended to one that was not available to all, in this four year march towards the present goal and will enter the alumni ranks of what is termed the most democratic institution of higher learning in America.

Following the Saturday exercises at Chicago, the festivities opened at Urbana-Champaign with the baccalaureate service at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, June 10, the address was given by Dr. Herbert M. Moore, president of Lake Forest college. Monday the Class Day exercises were held in the Auditorium at 10 a. m. Today is Alumni day, celebrating reunions of various classes of years gone by. On Wednesday, the 57th annual commencement will begin at 9:30. The address will be given by Dr. David Kinley, president of the University.

Those from Lee County to receive degrees are as follows:

Dixon.
Beier, Paul Reinhold, A.B.
McGinnis, Louise Gertrude, A.B.
Tetrick, James Dale, B.S.

Amboy.
Fleming, Sarah Naomi Monica, B.S.

West Brooklyn.
White, Earl Charles, B.S.

Want a "A" clothes philosophy for every woman?
That is what an eminent couturier, Madame Sady Weiss, of Bruck-Weiss, feels is a great American need today.

"Until a woman has a well-established idea in her mind of just what clothes she can wear, she is unsettled, drifting a clothes philosophy is almost as important in a woman's life as a career," Madame Weiss asserted.

"It is not the woman who knows her type and is consistent in everything she wears whose mind is totally by occupied with clothes. Rather, it is the woman who has never thought out what she should have, who spends her life worrying about it. As a practical woman, I should advise young girls starting out in life to settle their sartorial policy. It will save time, money and free the mind for other tasks. And it will give them that well-groomed chic every woman craves."

"For want of good clothes sense, lovers even have been tured away. Why not sit down and study your self? Then ask the opinion of some expert. Once a general philosophy is worked out, life is easier, clothes are to be less expensive and the woman is at her best, which is reason enough in itself."

A MUSICAL IMMIGRANT

By Olive Roberts Barton
As he sits in his house, he ponders over the difference between the great roaring American city and the quiet little village in the Vosges Mountains where he was born.

Over there, when he was very young, he lived with a German peasant who sat outside his doorway on still summer evenings and played softly on his flute.

Now the little immigrant knows these tunes by heart, and perhaps you can persuade him to perform for you.

But first of all, you must be of the elect, for he chooses his audience—and his stage! We will suppose that you have asked him to play and are waiting patiently for his answer. He comes to his open door and looks you over. He prefers his audience to be seated, so you sit down.

Suddenly he emerges, then cocking his head on one side, now on the other, he comes out and walks fussy around you, never once removing his keen black eyes from your face.

"Is this person worth while?" he seems to be saying, as plainly as words could put it. You shift uneasily. Never before have you been subjected to such a test.

Ah! You are chosen. For the next thing he does is to mount the stage, and the stage is your knee or shoulder, or perchance the top of your head! Already he is attired for the performance, a rose-colored vest, a black velvet cap, gray bolero, and long black coat tails.

Without warning, softly, deliberately, he plays for you, four distinct melodies on his tiny flute. No minors no waverings, no flats—every note hit fair and square in the middle, piercingly clear, agonizingly sweet—your heart turns over!

He numbers many famous people among his acquaintances. Some he has elected to play for, some he has not. Probably his standard of excellence is his German master in the mountains.

The little immigrant is a bullfinch!

THE MARCH OF MEDICINE.

Medical science still has a number of baffling problems to solve. It needs to know a great deal about cancer, infantile paralysis and tuberculosis, for instance, than it now knows. But it has succeeded in coping with some of the maladies that plagued our fathers, nevertheless.

The American Medical Association announces that in 1927 there were seven American cities, with population over 100,000, that had no deaths from typhoid fever. These cities were New Haven, Conn.; Springfield, Mass.; Yonkers, N. Y.; Paterson, N. J.; Richmond, Va.; Canton, O., and Kansas City, Kas.

That is a significant record. Once typhoid was accepted as an unavoidable scourge. Now it is yielding rapidly. It can be practically wiped out; and it is probable that it will be in the not-distant future.

MAKING OUR MONEY WORK.

Americans are sinking approximately $1,000,000,000 a year in dubious financial schemes.

Furthermore, the people who are doing this are not the traditional "widows and orphans," but supposedly wise business men.

These facts are revealed by a writer in the current issue of Good Housekeeping, who points out that "we have learned how to make money but not how to hang on to it and make it work for us."

The old rule still holds good; if you have money to invest consult your banker. Don't act on tips or on advice of your friends unless you are willing to face the possibility of loss. Your banker will be glad to tell you where safety lies. Let him advise you.

THE MANHUNT.

Why is it that there is something about a manhunt that stirs human emotions more powerfully than any other event?

The flight of the four bandits across western Kansas and Colorado, with airplanes, machine guns and horsemen mingled in the pursuit and dead bodies littering the trail, has absorbed public attention throughout the nation. The progress of political campaigns, the activities of Congress, the course of world events in China and Europe—things far more significant than this western flare-up of criminality—were forgotten as we read of the wild chase for a human quarry.

Apparently we are still pretty much uncivilized at heart. We respond to the elemental things as our ancestors did. We have not yet outgrown the love of excitement and battle that characterized the old American frontier.

A TRIBUTE TO JURIES.

It remained for the magazine Life to make the final comment on the oil trials.

Messrs. Sinclair, Doheny and Fall, Life says, ought to be fervent supporters of the U. S. Constitution. For where, it asks, would these gentlemen be without the great institution of trial by jury?

With which we can now consider the case closed.

Might as well abandon the safe and sane Fourth idea. Firecrackers can be legislated out of existence, but there seems to be no way of abolishing the honking motorist.

Then Clowny cried, "That isn't kind to say such things. I think you'll find that his intentions were real good. Let's wait until we see." The flying man then said, "Thanks, lad! I'm glad you do not think I'm bad. And don't you worry 'bout your boat. Just leave that all to me."

I think you were absolutely wrong to make so light of your accident as you did when Alan came home, and I think it was quite your fault that you precipitated a scene.

N. D. Governor Will Still Harsh Words

Omaha, Neb., June 11—(AP)—The Governor of North Dakota has changed his mind about the harsh words he intended to say to the Governor of Nebraska when they meet in Kansas City. Governor Sorlie of North Dakota, hearing a "farmer protest" cavalcade of 24 automobile loads of farmers arrived here yesterday, expecting to meet Governor McMullen of Nebraska, who, the North Dakota chief executive explained, as originator of the "farmer protest caravan" idea, was to have led the band southward to Kansas City for the National Republican Convention.

When Governor Sorlie, a man of large stature with snowy white hair and flashing eyes, learned that Governor McMullen had gone on to the convention city he appeared sorely vexed and made it plain that he would have plenty of pointed words for the chief executive of the corn-husker state when he saw him.

But today, Governor Sorlie had changed his mind, and he made no explanation, merely remarking that his meeting with Governor McMullen would be congenial and that they would continue to work for the best interests of the farmers of the north-west.

Twenty-two Killed in German Accident

Nuremberg, Germany, June 11—(AP)—Twenty-two persons were dead today after the Munich-Frankfurt express plunged down an embankment near Siegsdorf.

The train was rounding a sharp curve yesterday at 50 miles an hour when it left the rails. The engine plunged down the embankment and the boiler burst. The first coach fell on the locomotive and most of its occupants were scalded to death.

Fourteen persons were killed instantly and eight of those injured died later. Panic reigned after the wreck. Most of the uninjured passengers fled without attempting to aid those who were hurt, but they were finally cared for by persons who came from nearby towns to the scene of the disaster.

FARM PROSPERITY PASSES UP STATE U. OF I. DECLARES

Incomes Less in 1927 Than During Previous Annus

Urbana, Ill. June 12.—(AP)—What- ever prosperity prevailed in 1927 passed up most Illinois farmers, send- ing the average income downward for the third consecutive year, it was announced today by Prof. H. C. M. Case, in charge of the farm organiza- tion and management department of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

On the basis of actual account kept on 1300 farms, it is doubtful if the average farmer of Illinois got 2 per cent on a fair valuation of his prop- erty last year after paying all ex- penses of operating his farm and al- lowing hired man wages for himself, Prof. Case said.

Relatively good prices for farm products during 1927 did not help much because farmers did not have enough products to sell. The good prices for farm products were due in a large measure to low production and poor quality of crops in many sections, including Illinois.

For the state as a whole, farm in- comes in 1927 were $200 to $300 less a farm than during the previous year. This would not have seemed much in a period of good times, but following other years of low incomes it is hav- ing a bad effect. More and more farmers are cutting down on expenses which are really needed for main- taining their building, machinery and other equipment.

An illustration of the situation was the 117 farms in Wethersfield town- ship, Henry county. These results include a record from practically every farm in the township and shows that after a farmer allowed himself hired man's wages of $720 a year he pocketed a return of only 24 per cent on his total farm investment. This investment was figured on a conserva- tive basis of only $165 an acre for land or $218 an acre for everything, including land, all farm improve- ments, machinery, equipment, live- stock and supplies on hand. This is even less than this property would have been valued at in pre-war years. Illinois farmers were hard hit by weather conditions in 1927, whereas some agricultural regions, like the territory in the Missouri River val- ley, fared better. If present prices continue and the Illinois farmers can raise a normal crop in 1928 it will do much to revive their hopes. Unfor- tunately, however, weather conditions were adverse to winter wheat, the hay crop and so far have been unfa- vorable for small grain at least in most sections of the state, Prof. Case re- ported.

The Farm Week in Washington

BY FRANK L. WELLS

(Associated Press Farm Editor)
Washington.—(AP)—Of particular moment to such potato-growing states as Maine, New York, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Colo- rado, Idaho and Washington, pub- lic hearings are expected to be ordered soon by the United States Tariff com- mission in its investigation of produc- tion costs at home and abroad. Farm organizations backing the survey ex- pect it to result in an increased tariff for the protection of American producers.

Figures submitted to the commis- sion show that during the calendar years of 1926 and 1927 the importation of white potatoes amounted to a total of 10,925,062 bushels, valued at $13,575,293. This represents an in- crease of 281 per cent as compared with potato imports for the calendar years of 1924 and 1925.

The present tariff on potatoes amounts to one-half cent a pound, or 30 cents a bushel. Under the flexi- ble provisions of the tariff act, if the commission's findings so warrant, the tariff may be raised 50 per cent, which would make the rate 45 cents a bushel.

Although no date has been set, es- tablished rules of the commission provide that notice shall be given 30 days prior to the opening of public hear- ings in Washington. In addition the commission will make a field survey to obtain first-hand information on the cost of producing potatoes in this country.

Large quantities of potatoes im- ported by the United States come from Bermuda, but the bulk origi- nates in Canada and it is understood that the investigation is aimed pri- marily against Canadian imports. A number of other potato-producing countries are shut out by quarantine, the federal government's barrier against introduction of foreign plant diseases.

An attempt will be made to show that large stocks of American pota- toes have been denied a market due to the presence of imported supplies and that the present tariff is so low foreign producers can offer potatoes at a price below production costs in the United States.

A comparison of taxes, here and abroad, will be offered as a contribut- ing element in the so-called depre- sive influence of outside competition. The relative costs of machinery and farm labor are other factors to be considered.

Weekly Review of Agriculture by Farmers Paper

Chicago.—(AP)—Owing to the sharp break in prices which carried wheat prices downward as much as 75 cents to $1, and to the holiday, cattle feeders put the market on short rations last week, according to Prairie Farmer's agricultural review. Supply abridgement affected all weights with the result that mature steers quickly recovered all the decline and light steers and yearlings reached new high ground for the season.

The light heifer market strength- ened with steers. Stocker and feeder cattle remain extremely scarce and the scanty receipts of common beef steers cause packers to compete ac- tively for all on the border line.

Receipts of hogs have increased since early in May in line with the usual seasonal trend, but the extent of the increase has been moderate. Arrivals for the last five weeks have been persistently lighter than in the corresponding weeks of 1927. Amer- ican weights have also been lighter. Prices have shown no special trend for the last two weeks, as alternating spells of strength and weakness have resulted in little or no net change. The peak of the late spring movement probably will be reached in two or three weeks after which a stronger market is in prospect.

The effect of the unfavorable pas- ture season was evident in unusually light receipts of fat lambs in the last ten days. The first Idaho lambs ar- rived at Chicago where they realized $19, the highest paid for the initial shipment in several years. Later sales were at $15.25. Receipts probably will increase and work lower in June.

Wool prices are strong in the seaboard markets, at country points and in foreign wool centers. Mills are showing resistance to advances in prices but they appear to recognize the strong position of the wool, and in some cases are anticipating their requirements.

Wheat prices have fluctuated prin- cipally in accord with weather news lately and probably will continue that performance until the size of the new crop is better known. Rains in Can- ada, lower temperatures in the north- west and more favorable weather in Europe produced speculative liquida- tion and carried prices downward in the last week.

Corn prices averaged lower in the past week. Receipts increased mod- erately, partly due to the usual after- planting movement and partly be- cause of southwestern elevators were clearing space for the new wheat crop. Demand has been fairly well main- tained. The new crop is making good progress in all sections.

Oat prices lost ground, although less rapidly than other grains.

Much of the hay coming to market is of poor quality so that offering of top grades are readily taken at firm prices. Demand for dairy hay has slackened as pastures improve.

Egg markets were somewhat less plentiful supplied last week, but trade was slow and prices were off two cents a dozen from the high point early in May.

Production of butter is finally showing the increase which is nor- mally expected at this season of the year. Receipts at leading markets were nearly 15 per cent larger last week than in the preceding week and dealers believe that with pastures and weather conditions better, that pro- duction will gain rapidly. Prices have declined to the lowest level of the season.

Ogle Bureau's Resolutions on Farm Bill Veto

Ogle County Farm Bureau assem- bled in regular annual business session at Oregon, Illinois, Tuesday, June 5, 1928, with 800 farm men and women in attendance adopted these resolu- tions:

RESOLVED: That we reaffirm our support of the principles of the McNary-Haugen Bill as the best means so far proposed for the control of agricultural surplus.

We remind our members that it is neither hasty or ill-considered legisla- tion that the ablest minds in the fields of economics and business and finance have been consulted in its drafting. It has been considered by four Congresses and past twice, in the last session by an overwhelming majority. In his veto message, Pres- ident Coolidge has raised against it only far fetched objections, misrep- resentations and unsound economic arguments.

We condemn his arbitrary use of a veto as an unwarranted and unjusti- fied interference with economic legisla- ture. We bitterly resent the abusive language of the veto message.

We charge President Coolidge and his advisors with the responsibility for the Republican party breaking its pledge to secure equality for agricul- ture. We remind our members and neighbors that they are under no obligations to support any political party. We urge that in the coming election they ignore party lines and vote for candidates who, we are cer- tain, will give farmers a fair break.

We commend the officers of the various agricultural organizations and committees for their fight for equal- ity for agriculture and express the fullest confidence in their integrity and leadership.

RESOLVED: That we favor the enactment of the Strong Bill for stabilization of prices and urge our Senators and Representa- tives in Congress to give it their best support.

We stand for increased tariff rates on farm products and such articles as compete with farm products such as Jute, Crude Molasses and Tropical Fruits.

We view with alarm the increase in the bonded debt of the State of Illi- nois which now totals over $200,000,000. We are unalterably opposed to any proposed bond issue which will increase direct taxation upon agricul- ture.

We stand for taxation reform and reaffirm our previous stand endor- sing the income tax.

We favor the development of a sys- tem of inland waterways.

Valuable Hints for Farmers and Their Good Wives

Lamb and mutton are used in a very limited way throughout the cen- tral portion of the United States, probably because settlers of what is now the corn belt obtained their stock from the wool flocks of the North Atlantic states and developed it almost wholly for wool and with- out regard to the inherent flavor of meat.

There still is a great difference of opinion among producers of garbage- fed hogs as to whether the hog raised on garbage from the beginning is more profitable than one purchased on the market at about 100 pounds weight. As a rule the hog accustomed to garbage early in his life should be more successful, since this feed is bulky and a greater stomach capacity is necessary to assimilate the same amount of nourishment. The hog raised on garbage is started as a garbage-fed pig and his stomach is cap- able of being distended beyond that of the grain-fed hog of the same age.

There are a great many different breeds of chickens suited to various poultry-raising conditions. In gen- eral the breeds are divided into four classes—American, Asiatic, English and Mediterranean. All birds of the American class, which includes the Plymouth Rock, Rhode Island Red, Rhode Island White, Wyandotte and Jersey Black Giant, have qualities which make them good producers of eggs and meat. However, the strain and breeding is more important than the variety.

Sweet clover will grow almost any- where, provided there is a total of more than 17 inches of rain and suf- ficient lime in the soil. However, in- spite of the fact that sweet clover is a hardy plant, it is not always easy to get a stand. Lime, inoculation, and a firm seed bed are three essentials in obtaining a stand of sweet clover. It may not always be necessary to neutralize an acid soil, but the crop commonly must have lime if it is to do well.

The adult turkey is affected very little by the gapeworm, but acts as a carrier of the parasite by infecting the premises with worm eggs which are picked up by chickens. Presum- ably the turkey has developed some immunity through centuries of para- sitism, but young chickens that con- tract "gapes" may suffer severely.

108 LEE CATTLE FOUND TO HAVE T. B. DURING MAY

State Reports Progress in Its Fight Against Bovine Ailment

Springfield, Ill.—(AP)—As a result of rapid progress made by the state and federal departments of agri- culture in the eradication of bovine tuberculosis in Illinois, officials of the state department now believe that the malady among cattle in this state will be practically extinct within two years.

Combined efforts of federal, state and county veterinarians resulted in 101,867 tuberculous tests being made in the state during May, the depart- ment reported today.

The proportion of diseased cattle in herds over the state as revealed by tests performed during that period, was lower than it has ever been, the department said. Cattle in Douglas, Henderson, Moultrie, Morgan and Tazewell counties were found to be entirely free from the disease.

During the summer months, of- ficials hope to maintain the percent- age of tests made in May. With con- tinuation of the present co-operation, it is expected that several other counties will be added to the list of 12 now accredited as free from tu- bercularis cattle, and that many more will be advanced to more than three-fourths of completion, rendering quarantine regulations effective over a much greater portion of the state.

The number of cattle tested for tuberculosis during May, and the number found diseased, include the following counties:

ILLINOIS CAUCUS HARMONIOUS; WEST FOR COMMITTEEMAN

Threatened Rift Failed to Materialize at G. O. P. Meeting

By WALTER T. BROWN
(Associated Press Staff Writer)
Kansas City, Mo., June 12.—(AP)—Its factional differences over the places on the National Committee settled in caucus, the Illinois delegation today awaited the balloting when its favorite son, Frank O. Lowden, former Governor, will for the second time be presented as a candidate for the presidential nomination. Already divided two ways with one faction headed by Mayor William Thompson of Chicago, sponsoring the movement to draft President Coolidge, and the other and larger group pledged to Lowden, there now appears the possibility that Herbert Hoover will have at least one vote in the delegation. William Wrigley, Jr., the chewing gum manufacturer, chosen as a Thompson delegate, has indicated a preference for the Secretary of Commerce. He remarked last night that he desired the retention of Mr. Coolidge in the White House but believed that the President is definitely out of the picture. Hoover is his next choice.

No Contest in Caucus
Although the deliberations over the determination of Illinois members of the National Committee occasioned considerable scurrying around before the caucus last night, the selections were made without a contest.

Roy O. West, of Chicago, now secretary of the National Committee, was unanimously chosen National Committeeman, and Mrs. Bertha Baur, also of Chicago, National Committeewoman. Senator Charles S. Deneen was named chairman of the delegation. The election of West was avowed by the Deneen faction. Several members of the delegation who are candidates for state positions had objected to West, believing that his selection would alienate the Thompson faction. They had sought to delay the voting on the committee posts until after the convention but the Deneen group was overruled. The Deneen people, however, had to sacrifice their choice for National Committeewoman, Mrs. Lottie Holman-O'Neill, of Downers Grove, member of the State Legislature, who also was sponsored by several women's organizations.

Louis L. Emmerson, candidate for Governor, and Oscar Carlstrom, seeking a second term as Attorney General, delegates-at-large, did not attend the caucus.

Custer on Committee
Omer N. Custer, of Galesburg, an outstanding Lowden supporter, was named to the powerful credentials committee which will consider the southern delegation contests won before the National Committee by Hoover. For the resolutions committee, the convention body that presents a platform, Illinois chose Earl C. Smith of Pittsfield, President of the Illinois Agricultural Association and a supporter of farm relief such as McNary-Haugen bill. Other convention committee selections were: Organization, George F. Harding, of Chicago; Rules, John H. Harrison, of Danville; to notify Presidential Nominee, Garrett de F. Kinney of Peoria, State Treasurer; to notify Vice-Presidential Nominee, John M. Mitchell of Mt. Carmel.

Lowden's Second Bid
Lowden will make his second bid for the presidential nomination at this convention. He was a candidate in 1920 when Warren G. Harding was the nominee. West succeeds as national committeeman, Allen F. Moore, of Monticello, to whom the delegation gave a vote of thanks for his work. Mrs. Baur follows Mrs. McCormick, who is a candidate for Congresswoman-at-large.

Of the 122 delegates and alternates in the Illinois delegation only seven of them are women. They are in addition to Mrs. McCormick, who is a delegate-at-large: Mrs. Myrtle Tanner Blackledge, Chicago, alternate-at-large; Mrs. Fannie Worthington, of Sterling, thirteenth district; Mrs. C. A. Hoefler, Preppent, thirteenth; Mrs. Eva Martindale of Quincy, fifteenth district; Mrs. Elizabeth V. Cooley of Brocton, eighteenth, and Mrs. Helen Mathews Grisby, Pittsfield, all alternates.

Duchess Makes First Hop of Long Journey

London, June 11.—(AP)—Word was received today that the Duchess of Bedford, 62 years old, who was near disaster at the start of her round trip flight to India yesterday, had completed the first hop of her journey.

The Daily Express stated that a telegram had been received from Captain C. D. Barnard, pilot for the Duchess, saying that they had arrived safely at Sofia, 1,300 miles distant, in their plane the Princess Xenia.

The Duchess plans to make the flight to India in four stages—halting at Aleppo, Bushire and Karachi as well as Sofia. After delivering the first air freight from England to India the plane is to return to England at once. A round trip flight to India in eight days is planned.

The Princess Xenia was flown by Captain Robert H. Macintosh and Earl Hinkler in an attempt last year to set a non-stop distance flight record which ended when the plane came down in Poland.

EWES FROM WEST BEST BUY SAYS ASHTON DEALER

Roy J. Krug Writes of Advantage in Following Advice

At the present time when political men and farmers are so keenly interested in the farm relief question, it naturally appeals to me that we as farmers should figure out a good sound and constructive proposition that will be a remedy to a certain extent for the agricultural problems with which we have been confronted the past few years. Personally I do not believe legislation will do the job entirely alone. The majority of us are keenly interested in the production of livestock in one branch or another. In view of the fact that cattle prices are high and this is due of course principally to liquidation on account of high prices and also to scarcity and there apparently is no alternative except high stock cattle prices this fall and with the hog crop ratio out of balance at the present time, and the prospect of a big corn crop which if it matures will spell lower prices for this product; it seems logical for me to feel that there is only one thing to turn to in the corn belt states at this time and that is a good healthy western yearling ewe.

Naturally before considering this proposition it is no more than right that we consider for a moment the soundness of the sheep industry. The sheep business is not liable to be overdone when the U. S. produces but 10 per cent of the wool of the world, but consumes 25 per cent of it. The sheep population of the U. S. has greatly decreased in the last twenty-five years while our population consuming mutton and wearing wool is annually increasing. In 1900 there were 60 million sheep and 75 million people in the U. S. In 1924 there were 35 million sheep and 112 million people whose per capita consumption of sheep products is increasing. World wool consumption is increasing faster than production. There never has been a surplus of sheep produced in the U. S. A flock of good healthy western ewes produce the two highest priced products from the farm, wool and mutton and eat the cheapest kind of feed. They require the least labor in changing the cheap hay and pasture into marketable commodities, leaving the farm cleaner and richer for the privilege. Another point of great importance to be considered is the fact that if every corn belt farmer would seed a portion of his farm to sweet clover pasture which is very desirable for sheep it would reduce the grain acreage, and thus cut down the surplus of grain and thereby stimulate higher prices and at the same time increase the fertility of the soil, eliminating the purchase to a certain extent of commercial fertilizer. There are twelve distinct reasons why a western yearling ewe and preferably a blackface is the best kind for the corn belt in preference to our native sheep which some of us now have.

1. A longer span of productive life.
 2. Not so susceptible to stomach worms.
 3. Will shear 3 to 5 pounds more wool than an average native.
 4. Ewe's bag will dry up quicker and without attention.
 5. Sheep do not run into gobby flesh and become barren.
 6. Western sheep will withstand weather conditions better.
 7. They will thrive on good hay alone in winter.
 8. Death loss from natural causes is less.
 9. The yearling ewe is increasing in value while an old ewe is decreasing.
 10. They produce the kind of wool in best demand from the local mills.
 11. They are available at attractive prices considering what they will produce.
 12. A good many western ewes have produced in wool and lambs this season to the extent of $29.00 per head.
- It is not unreasonable at all to think that a yearling ewe will produce 100 per cent on the investment at present prices if given reasonably good care and bred to pure-bred rams and the lambs docked and trimmed.

The Thymsus Gland

(The following is one of a series of articles prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial as part of its Better Health and Longer Life program. President Coolidge is the honorary president of the Memorial which has been organized and endowed by prominent doctors and laymen throughout the country to perpetuate the work of the late Major General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness.)

(Headquarters of the Gorgas Memorial are at 400 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago.)

Outside of medical circles, one hears relatively little about the Thymsus Gland as compared to its neighbor the Thyroid. It occupies a narrow unyielding space in the upper portion of the chest between the breast-bone and the spinal column. Crowded into this small area are also the trachea, the esophagus, and several large blood vessels and nerves. Any enlargement of the Thymsus Gland, however slight, can, by pressing against these structures, cause alarming symptoms and oftentimes sudden death.

The exact functions of the Thymsus Gland are, as yet, not fully understood but that it is largely concerned in the manufacture of white blood cells during the earlier months of life is a generally accepted theory. These "Policemen of the Blood," as they have been aptly termed, assist in developing and maintaining immunity and normal resistance in the growing child.

As the months pass and the child gains in age, the Thymsus Gland, having completed its principal function, tends to decrease in size and gradually fades out of the picture, so to speak. This, in a sense, is literally true in that the X-ray photographs of an infants chest should not show any enlarged Thymsus Gland shadows.

If from any cause the Thymsus Gland remains enlarged, serious trouble may arise, as previously stated. Symptoms may be entirely absent, until a slight infection of any kind, a stomach or bowel disturbance, a nervous shock, or perhaps a trivial accident precipitates sudden death.

"Thymic Babies" are usually loud, hoarse, or noisy breathers, though otherwise they may seem quite normal until suddenly attacks of difficult breathing, with blueness and symptoms of suffocation come on. These attacks tend to increase in frequency and severity and may at any time prove fatal.

Children with Thymsus Gland enlargement may live to maturity but seem to possess little if any resistance, and tend to succumb quickly to disease or infections, especially of the lungs, heart, and brain. They have pasty complexions, flabby muscles, enlarged glands, tonsils, and adenoids, and are subject to various skin eruptions of an eczematous type.

Children in whom Thymsus Gland enlargement is found, or even suspected, should not be given an anesthetic of any kind, as sudden death may occur during the procedure. Such children should be photographed by X-ray to determine first if this condition exists. Subsequent X-ray treatments will almost always cause a complete shrinkage of the gland. Drugs are useless.

Ashtonite Applicant for County Position

Another application for the position of county bovine tuberculosis officer was received by the board of supervisors yesterday afternoon when Dr. E. B. McClure of Ashton was present and presented his credentials. Dr. McClure stated to the board that he had his office at Rochelle but resided in Ashton. A change in the law governing the county bovine tuberculosis program, provides that the veterinarian hired by the county board cannot be a resident of the county by whom he is employed. The application was referred to the special bovine tuberculosis committee. The board members will make their annual inspection of the county home property near Eldena tomorrow and will be guests of Superintendent and Matron, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Fry at noon. This evening the board members and county officers are enjoying a fish fry at the Black Hawk cottages. The purchasing committee was empowered to purchase coal for the court house and county jail.

Rash of Badges

BY BRIAN BELL
Associated Press Staff Editor
Kansas City, June 12—(AP)—A man in Kansas City today without a badge is half undressed. He might as well have his coat off as to have it undecorated with a badge. The Republican convention broke out in a rash of badges last night and today it was epidemic.

The badges have it. Big badges and little ones, modest ones with small pictures of favorite candidates and some as big as platters, shouting allegiance so pointedly that he who runs may read.

Hotel lobbies have every appearance of the after-luncheon hour just at adjournment of a joint meeting of the Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions clubs.

One man from Indiana wore so many that a small envious boy asked his mother, "Does the one with the most win?"

The Hoover badges seemed to offer the most variety in a catch-as-catch-can survey. Their different types of Hoover label decorations were in evidence. The Curtis buttons were the mid-gets and the Watson badges were the giants. No difficulty would be found serving an old-fashioned pierce of pie on one of the Watson emblems.

The Curtis supporters introduced a gray sunflower-decorated head-dress extolling the virtues of the Kansan. The Lowden camp met this challenge with a flowing streamer and Hoover's partisans countered with brilliant arm bands. Two young women did not wear their Hoover arm bands on their arms. They displayed them below their skirts.

Improvise Roller

Grand Forks, N. D.—(AP)—An improvised roller for preparing a seed bed for flax proved so satisfactory that Walter Ramage of Langdon has decided to make it a permanent part of his farm equipment.

Is He Original Andy Gump?

Here are two pictures of David A. Hoag of Canandaigua, N. Y., who says he is the original Andy Gump of the Sidney Smith comic strip and has filed suits against several papers to enjoin the publication of the comic on the grounds that it ridicules his facial deformity. Hoag says that part of his lower jaw was removed during an operation about 12 years ago and that shortly thereafter the comic character Andy Gump, closely resembling him, appeared. Smith says that the character is purely a product of his imagination. Hoag asks damages of $1,000,000.

The weight of the roller is estimated at about 10,000 pounds, making it an ideal clod crusher and packer, according to its inventor.

Rotary Apparatus May Oust Plowing

Harpden, England—(AP)—A rotary cultivator which may supersede the plow is being demonstrated here at the Rothamsted Experimental Station.

Dr. B. A. Keen, assistant director of the station, announces that instead of the traditional method of plow, cultivator and harrow, a new method rotary cultivation in one operation is being tried.

It is found an advantageous method so far as germination and early growth of plants are concerned, but leads to hardening of the soil which interferes with growth. The problem now is to prevent this either by a second rotary cultivation or by some method of working the machine, so that the advantage which undoubtedly obtains to the early growth of the plant can be sustained to the harvest period.

The rotary cultivator works on a horizontal shaft behind a petrol engine "tines" being operated in a manner suggestive of the action of a dog's paw.

The dead are: E. H. Menden and

Parisians Blamed for Pest Outbreak

Versailles, France—(AP)—Due to the carelessness of Parisian commuters who are invading in growing numbers the Department of Seine-et-Oise, insect and plant pests are increasing in alarming proportions authorities say.

The situation has become so serious in its effects on production that the authorities are taking drastic steps to remedy it. The prefect of the department has notified all owners or occupiers of land that he intends rigorously to enforce the law, hitherto more or less in abeyance, which obliges them under pain of fine or imprisonment to clear all trees, bushes and hedges of caterpillars; to destroy June bugs and asparagus flies and parasitical plants, such as thistles, dodder, barberry, mistletoe and broomrape.

HEALTH DIET ADVICEDr. Frank McCoyMy Best Way to Health*

QUESTIONS IN REGARD TO HEALTH AND DIET WILL BE ANSWERED BY DR. FRANK MCCOY, LOS ANGELES SPECIALIST, IN A LARGE, SELF-ADDRESSED, STAMPED ENVELOPE. TRIMMED, STAMPED, LARGE ENVELOPE FOR REPLY.

Dr. McCoy, Los Angeles specialist, will gladly answer personal questions on health and diet, addressed to him, care of The Telegraph. Enclose stamped, addressed, large envelope for reply.

MALARIA (Part 2)

I have never found it necessary to employ quinine in cases of malaria because this disorder yields more readily to the fasting and dieting regime which seems to remove from the blood some element upon which the parasite feeds. I have a number of patients who, after the purifying processes of the fast, and by keeping their bodies clean through the correct diet, went into malarial infected regions and though they were bitten by the mosquito, they did not develop any of the symptoms of malaria.

I believe that a surplus of starches and sugars in the menu and the lack of certain resistant giving mineral elements to weaken the blood that the parasite can develop, and when this deficiency is corrected, the parasite is automatically destroyed.

In the cure of malaria it is advisable that the patient employ some form of acid fruit for his fast. Only one kind of fruit should be used as a meal. I have found that the grapefruit is of special value. It seems that the organic acid of these fruits has a very cleansing effect upon the blood, and the mineral elements which they also contain are very valuable blood tonics. This fast should be maintained for several weeks until the parasite disappears from the blood. This can be determined by a microscopic examination.

The patient should drink freely of water, and enemas should be given twice daily during the period of fasting. I have prepared an article which tells the correct method for employing this enema, which I will be very glad to mail to you if you will send me a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

It is advisable that the patient be sweat to assist in the removal of the liquid toxins from his system. This sweating should not be too frequent, as a sufficient time must elapse between these treatments for the patient to recuperate his strength. Light sunbaths and exercises will assist in speeding the recovery.

There are many who suffer from a chronic form of malaria. It is quite common to find patients, who in their younger days have lived in the southern part of the United States, present a combination of symptoms which they call biliousness but which in many cases may come from an old malarial infection which was improperly treated with suppressive methods. Many readers, suffering from auto-intoxication, coated tongue, constipation, hot and cold chills, etc., may remember that they have once had malaria. If that is so, it is a good plan to take a short fast and a cleansing diet to try and get rid of the possibly original chronic cause of their present symptoms.

After this cleansing process the patient should be very careful with his food combinations, and employ a correctly balanced diet. Once the disease has been eliminated from his system in this manner he need not be afraid of the ordinary after effects of malaria.

I shall be very glad to hear from these people in malarial districts who are employing this method.

I would also advise a short fruit fast, as described, for even well people who wish to safeguard themselves against this infection.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

QUESTION: Mrs. J. H. asks: "Will you please print a diet or whatever you think is best for a rupture, or hernia as some call it. I have had one in the left groin for 12 years, at first small, but now as large as a cup."

ANSWER: Keep the quantity of food down to the minimum so that your abdomen will remain as flat as possible. Then take the "setting-up" exercises to develop your abdominal muscles. Meanwhile, wear a suitable support which will hold in the rupture until the muscles covering the peritoneum have been sufficiently developed to do their work properly.

QUESTION: Iris asks: "What kind of vegetable is the 'Chayote' that you give in your menus?"

ANSWER: The chayote is a form of summer squash, native to Mexico and Central America. It is cultivated in California and the southern states. The flesh is firm and delicately flavored, comprising a most healthful non-starchy vegetable.

QUESTION: E. R. B. writes: "Please tell me what can be done to relieve the burning in my face and head. Everything I eat seems to go just as far as my chest and no farther."

ANSWER: You can be sure that what you eat goes much lower than your chest, and it is because of the fact that you eat the wrong things that you have so much intestinal irritation which often causes a reflex burning of the face. Improve your general circulation, and get rid of the irritation and toxemia in your intestines.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTSMULLEN'S NEXT BOUT EXPECTED TO BE "HUMMER"*Walker and Hudkins Will Put Up Real Tough Battle

Chicago, Ill.—The greatest championship battle ever held—this seems to be the general opinion among sport writers the country over when the impending bout between Mickey Walker and Ace Hudkins is brought up for discussion.

The middleweight champion defends his title here at Comiskey Park, June 21st against the most colorful challenger for a title in many a day.

Both champion and challenger are punchers. Both men can box. Each is smart and experienced and right at the top of his form.

Fight experts are looking forward to a vicious swat fest from the first round to the finish. In fact, the sharpshooters are offering odds to the effect that the fight won't go the limit, and there are no takers.

Walker is a real fighting champion. He defended his title last summer in England, knocking out Tommy Milligan. He has been the busiest top-notch in the game during the past two months. Mickey is fighting himself into shape and tackled Jack Malone at St. Paul last week at the mid-weight limit.

Most title battles are rather colorless affairs. The champion as a rule is taking good care of his crown and takes few chances when in action. Mickey Walker fights. He doesn't care how tough the opposition is and prefers to win by the power of his wallop rather than to coast through to a decision via the point route.

Hudkins, the rip-tearing, two-fisted, slam-bang "Wildcat" of the prize ring, fears no man in the world, regardless of his weight. He is absolutely confident in his ability to lick Walker and expects to turn the trick with a K. O. He is ready and facing the biggest chance of his career. Ace will fight from the opening bell until the end.

Promoter Jim Mullen announces a big demand for duets. There are plenty of good seats left at all prices.

Ruth Got Pleasure of Homer Number 21

New York, June 11—(AP)—There is a chance that Babe Ruth will take more pride in his 21st home run of the 1928 season than he will in No. 22.

He hit both of them at Chicago yesterday as the Yankees lost to the Red Sox, but No. 21 was made off Red Faber, who has more than held his own with the home run king during the last 14 years. No. 22 was collected off Ted Lyons in the ninth inning after Faber was knocked out of the box.

When Ruth broke into the big leagues with the Boston Red Sox, Faber was pitching regularly for the White Sox. During his major league career Ruth has hit 434 home runs but he made only seven of them off Faber's pitching.

Ruth's two drives yesterday put him six games and six days ahead of his 1927 pace when he hit 60. He smacked off No. 22 on June 16 last year in his 54th game. His twenty-second this season came in his 48th engagement.

ROCHELLE NEWS

Rochelle—The Elk's Flag Day exercises will be held here June 12th. Commander Charles Hanson, of Rochelle Post No. 403, American Legion, has made another record for himself and for the Post. The post membership roll is now 209, the largest the post has ever enjoyed. The next regular meeting of the Post will be held Tuesday evening, June 12th. A representative of a drum company will be present at this meeting to interest the post in forming a drum corps. The next county meeting will be held at Mt. Morris, Thursday, June 14.

The annual Flag Day meeting of Rochelle Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution will be held in Oregon, June 14, at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Charles Etnyre, with Mrs. Sarah Barden as assistant hostess. An interesting program is being arranged consisting of talent from Oregon and Rochelle. All members of Rochelle Chapter are urged to be present at this, the last meeting of the Chapter, for the year 1927-28. Automobile accommodations will be arranged for all.

The Junior Recital given by Mrs. Winifred Kuehn's piano students, will be held Friday evening, June 15, beginning at 8:00 p. m. in the parlors of the Methodist church. All friends, former students, parents and others interested, are extended a cordial invitation to attend this event.

Through the efforts of the Business Men's Association, assisted by W. H. Hohenadel, they have closed a contract with the famous Al G. Barnes 40 car circus to show here the afternoon and evening of Wednesday, July 11th. There are 600 people in the show, who will eat three meals here. And the food, meat, etc., for the large menagerie, including as one feature alone, 15 elephants, will be purchased here.

The new office rooms on the second floor of the Rochelle Trust and Savings Bank building, which now occupy the space formerly used by the Odd Fellows, are now being leased. Dr. A. R. Bogue will occupy a suite of three of the new rooms, which are very desirable ones, being large and roomy, with plenty of light. Two remain for rent at this time.

After the recent preliminary tour of the gardens and yards, entered in the Better Yards and Garden contest, the committee has thought it best to divide all entries into two classes as follows: Class A—Newer yards and gardens and those with less space devoted to flowers Class B—Older yards and gardens and those with more space devoted to flowers. The division is made for the convenience of the judges, but it is an advantage for those entered as there will be first, second and third in each class. Judges who have been selected to act this season are Mrs. A. L. Fogle, Mrs. M. D. Hathaway, Mrs. J. C. Morrison, Mrs. A. B. Sheadle and Mrs. R. C. Brundage. Prices in each class will be first, $10.00; second, $5.00; 3rd, $3.00.

Now that house cleaning time has arrived you may find articles of furniture you wish to dispose of. A 50c ad in the Dixon Telegraph is bound to bring results.

COOKING SCHOOL NEWSMrs. Milholland points a way to better cooking flavors

MRS. Jennie L. Milholland is one of the hundreds of women who have written us, after following our suggestion to test Crisco by tasting it—just as a careful cook tastes her butter and milk. You'll be interested in what she discovered.

"I have been doing my own family cooking for more than forty years. Many years ago I discovered the good qualities of Crisco by tasting it in comparison with other cooking fats. I taste everything I cook, and I am guided solely by tasting until I have the right ingredients compounded to my taste. I use Crisco because I have for many years considered it the sweetest and most wholesome of all cooking fats."

Now, everything we cook is judged by its taste. But how can we expect our foods to taste good unless the things we made them of taste good, too? Compare the taste of Crisco with that of other cooking fats. Had you imagined there could be such a difference? Think what an improvement Crisco's sweet, wholesome flavor will make in the taste of your own pies, cakes, muffins, biscuits and fried foods!

Standard Pie Crust Recipe

Amount for one-crust pie (Or baked shell) For medium size two-crust pie
1½ cups pastry flour 2 cups pastry flour
½ cup Crisco ½ cup Crisco
½ teaspoon salt ½ teaspoon salt
4 to 6 tablespoons cold water 6 to 8 tablespoons cold water

Sift pastry flour and salt together. Cut shortening in with two knives until the consistency of small peas. Add only enough ice water to hold. Roll. For baked shell, cover bottom of pie plate. Leave enough edge to fold back to make it firm. Prick well with a fork to prevent bubbles. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) for 15 minutes.

Pie-plant Pie

Use standard recipe for medium size two-crust pie.

Filling
2 cups pie plant cut small 1 grated orange rind
½ cup sugar ½ teaspoon salt
1 egg beaten 1 teaspoon pastry flour

Cook pie plant until tender. Drain. Cool. Add sugar, salt, pastry flour and orange rind, mixed together. Last add beaten egg. Cover pie plate. Add the filling. Cover with top crust. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) until a rich brown.

Strawberry Cream Pie

Use standard recipe for baked shell.
4 cups strawberries 4 tablespoons cornstarch
1 cup sugar ½ pint cream

Mix half the sugar with the berries. Bring to boil in a saucepan. Then add the rest of the sugar mixed with the cornstarch. Stir until it begins to thicken. Then cool and turn into the baked shell. Cover with sweetened whipped cream. Chill before serving.

Japanese Lemon Pie

Use standard recipe for baked shell.

Filling
4 egg yolks beaten Grated rind and juice of 1 lemon
1 cup sugar ½ teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt 4 egg whites

Mix egg yolks, sugar, salt, lemon juice and rind. Cook in double boiler stirring until thick. Cool. Beat egg whites stiff, add baking powder. Fold into first mixture. Turn into baked crust, set in moderate oven (350° F.) to brown.

Virginia winced. "Well, I'm sorry if I misjudged you, Oliver. But if you could have seen your eyes!"

Split Vacation is Rawling's Advice

Springfield, Ill., June 11—(AP)—Broll in Illinois this summer, and takes two weeks' vacation under southern skies next winter; or, better still, split your vacation—half now, half next winter—is the advice of Dr. Isaac D. Rawlings, state health director.

"To make the United States a two-vacation nation," said Dr. Rawlings in his weekly bulletin today, "would trim down the winter and spring health hazard tremendously, and add a significant increase to the present life span."

Dr. Rawlings' advice was founded on the fact that over 50 per cent of all communicable diseases are crowded into the first four months of the year, while less than 25 per cent occur during the last four which follow the summer period. September, the first month after the vacation season, is usually the most healthful of the year.

If people in this latitude, he said, would shift their vacation period to mid-winter and spend their freedom from work in the south, a tremendous amount of late winter and early spring epidemics would be prevented. While summer vacations are exceedingly beneficial, the long days of summer are natural stimulants to out of door activities, while in the winter the scarcity of sunshine and indoor habits reduce the physical resources so as to leave the body wasted and open to attack, paving the way to epidemic waves.

Two vacations a year would prove an asset to employers, too, in increased efficiency of work, said Dr. Rawlings.

Watching the Big Scoreboard

BY HERBERT W. BARKER,
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The New York Yankees have struck their second "slump" of the season. They've lost two ball games in a row; their defeats have at last reached double figures, and their won and lost per centage has slipped below 800.

It was none other than the Chicago White Sox who reached up from the American League cellar to smite the Yankees for their tenth set-back yesterday, just as defeat No. 9 for the champions had come from the same team the day before.

Reverse No. 10 can be attributed to airtight pitching by Ted Blankenship who held Murderers' Row to four hits and would have had a 6 to 0 shutout but for Johnny Mostil's error in the seventh inning when the Yankees scored their one run.

The Sox tallied half a dozen runs in the third inning and drove Herb Pennock to the showers with his second defeat of the season for compamy.

Successive home runs by Al Simmons and Fox in the eighth enabled the Athletics to down Detroit, 4 to 2, and cut the Yankees' lead to a mere nine and a half games.

The St. Louis Browns consolidated their place just back of the Athletics in the standing, by turning back the Boston Red Sox, 2 to 1.

The Cleveland Indians took it on the chin again, Washington walking off with a 7 to 6 victory in ten innings. It was the Indians' 14th defeat in 17 games.

Meanwhile the National League contenders—and there are about seven of them—continued their merry cut-throat competition.

Five runs in the ninth gave the Cincinnati Reds their second straight over the New York Giants, 7 to 5. Val Pichish hit two homers, the second accounting for the Reds' last two and winning tallies.

St. Louis Clung to the Reds' pace-making heels with an easy triumph over the Boston Braves, 8 to 1. Grover Cleveland Alexander showing a surprising return to form.

Guy Bush outpitched McWeeney and Ehrhardt and the Chicago Cubs took the first game of the series with Brooklyn, 3 to 1. Stephenson's timely hitting was the feature.

The Pittsburgh Pirates' patched up lineup was so full of holes that the Phillies drove through to win, 6 to 4, scoring four of their runs in the seventh inning.
